

Hello,

My name is Jes Bouchard and I am trying to find people who served on the USS Corry between 77 & 79 who may have known John Dean Bellettieri. He was a signalman

John was tragically murdered in 1983, and I am working with his sister to try and get some information. While he was serving on the Corry, he was on furlough and stabbed multiple times. He survived, but he had to be medically discharged and then died just a few years later.

We would love to find some people who knew John and can either share a story about him or remember the incident where he was stabbed. Any information is helpful!

Can you please pass my contact information to any potential crewmates during that time?

Thank you,

Jes Bouchard
